CLINTON SAVINGS BANK RESPONDS TO COVID-19 FOOD BANK CRISIS
WITH A $20,000 DONATION

CLINTON, Mass. – APRIL 30, 2020 – Clinton Savings Bank donated $20,000 to six food pantries to help provide fresh, healthy foods to Mass. residents and those on the front line of COVID-19. The funds will support WHEAT Community Cupboard & Cafe, Wachusett Food Pantry, West Boylston Food Pantry, Berlin Food Pantry, Bolton Food Pantry, and the Boylston Food Pantry at First Congregational Church.

“With all of the uncertainties surrounding this pandemic, we knew there was one thing everyone should be certain on and that is where their next meal is coming from” said Robert J. Paulhus, Jr., Clinton Savings Bank’s President & CEO, “Far too many of our friends and neighbors in our communities are struggling, and our food pantries need all the support they can get for their work to keep the cupboards full. Our Bank loves to be the shoulders of our community in good times and in crisis, and we will do our part to always be there for some relief.”
